The Union adjourned, after some unimportant business, to meet this afternoon.

AN EX-EDITOR AGAIN BEFORE THE POLICE COURT .- Mr. George Ryan, an irritable, diseased and tyrannical specimen of an ex-editor, was brought before the Police Court yesterday morning for attempting to provoke Mrs. Margaret Metzger and her son Jacob to breach of the peace. The parties reside in different apartments of the same house, and as no tenement has yet been found large enough to contain two families, it may be supposed s been for some time past an attempt to demonstrate how much ill-nature may exist in the same building without being completely demolished with the explosive force of the harsh feeling which is pent up in its inmates. For the benefit of a portion of the tenants an organist a few days ago went into the hall, and began, in the manner peculiar to those lazzaroni, to make the villainous noise which they call music, and at the same time to annov the aforesaid author of one of the one thousand volumes on the Crimean War. His stock of patience, which was not large, soon became exhausted, and he ordered the itinerant musician to desist and depart, much to the chagrin of his neighbors. At this they rebelled, and Ryan used toward some of the ladies language which was admirably calculated to not only wound their feelings, but also to excite their ire.

Mayor Thomas, who presided-Judge Pru den being absent on account of sickness in his family-listened with a great deal of attention to the stories of both parties, and endured their boredom (the arguments included) with a most remarkable degree of stoicism, and then sentenced the parties to pay an equal share of the costs, and required them to give bail in the sum of $200 each to keep the peace for one year. This they did and departed, Mr. Ryan, as he averred, to make preparations for an im mediate departure for England, where, we hope, that he may escape such troubles in the future, by becoming less irritable and more gentlemanly.

ALMOST A WIFE MURDER .- A man named Benjamin Kelley, who resides on Second street, near Lawrence, has been in the habit lately of becoming intoxicated, and insisting upon spending the money earned by his wife. Her friends told her that she was not wise, and advised her to refuse hereafter to give him funds, for the purpose of satiating his depraved appetite. Night before last he went home about eleven o'clock, and asked her for two dollars, which she refused to give, when he knocked her down and beat her very badly. His rage increased with the number of blows he gave, for he at length seized a horse-pistol, which hung against the wall, and fired at her, when she fainted. The neighbors hearing the noire rushed in, but not before he had secaped, and by rubbing her pulses soon succeeded in restoring her to consciousness. The flash of the powder burned her face severely, but the ball missed her, fortunately, and entered the wall, tearing a hole in it several inches in diameter. She is yet suffering from her injuries, but he has not yet been heard from.

POLICE COURT .- In the Police Court, yesterday morning, Thomas Johnston was sentenced to jail at hard labor, for four months, for stealing a pair of pantaloons and a pair of shoes from James Conrad.

A fellow named O'Toole assaulted an Ethipian named Aifred Collins, and was therefore ent to jail for fen days.

Jacob Rosebery, who was guilty of an assault upon his wife, a delicious specimen of the beau sex, was sent to the City Prison for six days.

LAST NIGHT'S PROCEEDINGS.

The minutes of the previous meeting were approved.

A number of unimportant petitions were referred to the proper committees.

The Board located the places of holding the election, the same as last year, except in the Sixth and Seventh Wards.

The Sixth Ward polls is located at Hackman's

Coal Office, on Park street, south of White-water Canal. The Seventh Ward at Leonard's Pork-house, on Elm, near Fourteenth street.

The weekly report of the City Auditor was read and filed.

A deed of dedication from N. Longworth, dedicating Kemble street, from Harriet, fifty feet wide and three hundred and forty long, to be used by the city forever; also, Budd street, fifty feet wide, extending west three hundred and forty-three feet, both parallel with Eighth street. The matter was referred to Committee on Public Improvements, with instructions to report an ordinance accepting the dedication. A number of ordinances for grading and paving streets, and assessing special taxes, were read and passed.

Mr. Gaines tendered his resignation as nember of the Board from the Sixteenth Ward, to take effect on the second Wednesday of April, which was accepted.

The Mayor was instructed to issue a proclamation, ordering the election of two members of the Council, in the Sixteenth Ward. Mr. Koss called up the subject of purchas-ing two steam fire engines. Laid on the table and made the special order of the next meeting.

A resolution presenting to a number of the ities of this and other States a copy of the new Map of the city-passed.

LATTA rs. SHAWK was before the City Council last night, and a warm, animated, violent discussion was the consequence. Some of the members carried about three hundred pounds of steam to the square inch, and an explosion was anticipated. Mr. Weasner wanted to know if Mr. Rule said he lied. Mr. Rule said he was a gentleman, and only applied the term in a general sense. Mr. Weasner was satisfied, and cooled down. The subject was, laid over, and the "grate old skwirts" dried up.

A BRIDGE BROKEN DOWN .- A bridge which crosses the Whitewater Canal, just below Millcreek, by the weight of a couple wagons which were passing over it, was broken down yesterday afternoon. Two wagons, to which six that in this one, which is quite small, there horses were attached, were precipitated into extent injured. One of the drivers also fell with the bridge, and was hurt quite badly, but not dangerously.

A MAN BITES ANOTHER'S NOSE OFF .- In a quarrel, which occurred yesterday afternoon, in a coffee-house on the corner of Front and Ludlow streets, a man named John McGibbens became cannibalic and bit the nose of another, named Patrick Smith, almost off. Both were arrested and lodged in the Hammond-street Station-house, to await a hearing before the Police Court.

On Monday next the water will be let on the Miami Canal, and navigation resumed.

Had the Post-office Bill passed, the gross ap-propriations for the year 1859-69, exclusive of postal revenues, would not have exceeded fifty-two millions of dollars. The estimates of the Administration for the service of the year sbout forty-two millions, and thus has Congress for once approximated its appropriation to the demands of the Administration. REASONS WHY WE WANT CUBA .- Hon. John

Cochrane, who is now "a master" in Tamma-ny Hall, if not in "Israel," says the reason why we want Cuba is, that we must have cheap augar. Hon. Senator Slidell, of Louisiana, another of the Democratic doctors, says the reason we want Cuba is, not cheap sugar, but a desire to put an end to the slave-trade. Then again, Hon. Senator Brown, of Mississippi, says, Oh, no—the reason we want Cuba is to extend slavery. All a mistake, chimes in the President's organ, the Washington Union. "Senator Brown is near sighted." We want Cuba (says the We want Cuba (says the editor) "because it is an American island, and should constitute a part of our general system should constitute a part of our general system of industry."

The Cuba question, we are sometimes told, is the grand panacea for all the present and prospective troubles of the Democratic party. Kansas, Lecompton, Squatter Sovereignty, the Tariff, etc., etc., are all to be merged in that, the next "great question" of the day. Cuba is to be the Aaron's rod which is to "swallow up all the rest." But we see, from the delightful manifestations of harmony axhibited above, that festations of harmony exhibited above, that there is no concordance of opinion or sentiment upon the project at all; and that all the pleas-ant anticipations of "union and harmony" predicated upon it are in a fair way to be real ized, not quite so easily as the brothren ex-

There is a seeming agreement, indeed, upon one thing, namely: upon the necessity of stealing Cuba, if we can not get it by honorable means; but our consolution and hope, in view of that agreement, are, that the regues will somehow so fall out in arranging the preliminaries of the burglary, that honest men and an honest policy will get the better of them in the end.—N. Y. Express.

RESCUED FROM DROWNING .- Three resident of Chippewa, N. C., were crossing Niagara River in a sail-boat, a few days ago, just above the rapids, when a high wind caused the to capsize. A Niagara boatman, named Sullivan, immediately went to the rescue of the men who were slowly drifting toward the rapids. He contrived to get two of the men into his bont, the third was towed behind, and made for the shore, which he touched at a point quite low down, barely escaping the swift current next the American shore. The boat in which the men had been, went over the falls.

SPONTANEOUS COMBUSTION .- In Dayton. Monday, smoke was seen to issue from the cotton-batting room attached to the dry goods store of Messrs. Keifer & Conover. By the coolness and promptness of the proprietors, and gentlemen who ran in at the first alarm, the fire was soon extinguished with buckets of water. The origin of the fire, says the Empire. water. The origin of the fire, says the Empire, is a mystery, as the room was kept closed, except when entered for batting, and no fire, at any time, was taken into it. This singular circumstance will again bring the question of spontaneous combustion" before the public for discussion.

A PAWNER'S BANK .- They are making efforts in Boston to establish a "Pawner's Bank," to secure the advantages arising from an opportunity to obtain money for a time on pledges of chattel property, and to obviate, at the same time, the disadvantages of the present pawnbroking system. Such an institution i called a bank of charity in Europe.

A NEW REPRESENTATIVE .- The other morning, in the Senate Chamber, at Madison, Wis., a live owl, of the screeching species, was discovered sitting on the top of the window-shutter near the Speaker. It sat there, grim and ominous, slowly turning its head and look-ing around the Chamber, in the wisest imaginable manner. A written message, contents unknewn, was attached to one of his legs.

"The Blood is the Life Thereof." Chemical Analyses of the Blood of Consumptions Show a deficiency of the Red Globules. According to Liebig, these globules attract oxygen from the air, and combustion of the carbonaccomparticles of the blood ensues, evolving animal heat or from the air, and combustion of the corbonaccous particles of the blood ensure, evolving animal heat or vitality; it follows, therefore, if they were deficient, vitality would be defective.

"The blood can not be deprived of a certain quantity of its globules, without there resulting from it great prostration of the muscular system, very marked general feebleness, grave perturbations of the nervous system, "and various disorders of the functions of digestion, respiration and circulation." Even before auscultation can detect the existence of Consumption, the blood globules are already diminished, and the blood. Exhibits the characteristics of that of a person who has been bled several times. "As the tubercles of the lungs advance, the diminution of the globules grows more and, more considerable, and, at tast, reaches its minimum, when the lungs are filled with cavities." [Andrai on the Blood.] Now, it is admitted. Wood's Practice, that tuberculous deposition is in a ratio with defective vitality; consequently, if the globules, or hematocin were deficient, tuberculous deposition would be increased.

Upon such Chemical, and Physiological facts is based Mr. Guillerd's theory of the causes of Consumption, Chronic Debility, etc., as set forth in his recent lecture at Smith & Nixon's Hail.

It is, of course, impossible, in the brief limits of a circular, to embody and argue this theory. He can merely say that he has presented it to the consideration of the most eminent physicians in the United States, who admit its plausibility, and have hitherto confessed their inability to criticise it. Admitting its correctness, the obvious inference is, that in Consumption, and all other diseases of Chronic debility or defective vitality, if the globules or henastosin are deficient, and analyses of the blood in these diseases show that they are composed of iron, sulphur and phorphorus. He has, consequently, spent several years of study in compounding a preparation of these elements to meet the object required, and now confidently to free herself from disease. For sale at No. 120 West Sixth street, one door east of Race. 23-A W NEW ADVERTISEMENTS Opposition City Convention.
